SECRETARY OF STATE
STATE OF WASHINGTON

Mandatory Psychiatric Evaluation and IQ Test for all Elected Officials

An act relating to the recall of elected officials by adding a new subsection (3) to RCW 29A56 which reads: All legislators are required to take a mandatory psychiatric evaluation and an intelligence quotient test before being sworn into office. All legislators with IQ's under 80 will be required to wear a pointed cap with a pinwheel attached to the top of the hat and wear a T-shirt that depicts their IQ. For the few individuals that have an IQ greater than 80 but failed the psychiatric examination, their T-shirts will depict in no less than a 16 point font the list of mental deficiencies that were identified in their psychiatric evaluation. By clearly indentifying these elected officials, they will be protected from the recall process due to their diminished mental capacity and insanity.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Part I

Policies and Purpose

Sec. 1 Recall is a simple process and the laws are minimal. RCW 29A56 states that an elected official is subject to recall "Violation of the oath of office" means the neglect or knowing failure by an elective public officer to perform faithfully a duty imposed by law. An oath of office is also violated by failure to perform duties of office honestly, faithfully, and to the best of one's ability. Boccek v Bayley (1973) 81 W2d 831, 505 P2d 814.

Sec. 2 In an attempt to prevent frivolous cases of recall against elected officials, additional requirements have been imposed from rulings on various court cases. In order to protect the liberal tax and spend Democrats who are obviously mentally challenged and mentally unstable, we the people propose a new subsection (3) to RCW 29A 56.

Sec. 3 Whereas our Democratic legislators collectively do not have the ability to support a "One Man Rock Fight" nor can they add or subtract as verified by our current and projected budget deficits, we propose a new subsection to the recall process. This subsection will provide protection for recall because they honestly faithfully are performing their duties as elected officials, even though they are doing so with a diminished mental capacity and significant psychiatric problems.

Part II

Conclusion

Whereas, no sensible case can be made for increasing taxes and failing to stream line our state government, we the voters being compassion individuals, propose this new subsection to RCW 29A56 to protect the insane individuals that were elected to office in the State of Washington.
