

FORMATTING NOTE:

In initiatives, legislative bills and other proposed measures, language that is to be deleted from current statutes is represented by a "strikethrough" character and language that is to be added is underlined. Because these special characters cannot be formatted in all Internet browsers, a different set of symbols is used for presenting these proposals on-line. The symbols are as follows:

- Text that is surrounded by (({- text here -})) is text that will be DELETED FROM the existing statute if the proposed measure is approved.
- Text that is surrounded by {+ text here +} is text that will be ADDED TO the existing statute if the proposed measure is approved.
- {+ NEW SECTION+} (found at the beginning of a section or paragraph) indicates that ALL of the text in that section will become law if the proposed measure is approved.

INITIATIVE 248

AN ACT Relating to regulating the sale of cannabis; amending RCW 66.04.010; adding a new chapter to Title 66 RCW; prescribing penalties; and providing an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

{+ NEW SECTION. +} Sec. 1. The people of the state of Washington find that:

- (1) Cannabis hemp is an environmentally beneficial crop that:
  - (a) Yields more fiber, for paper and textiles, and more protein and oil per land area cultivated than any other plant;
  - (b) Yields cloth and paper of superior strength and durability without the application of pesticides during cultivation and without producing cancer-causing pollutants during processing;
  - (c) Yields more biomass than any other plant outside the tropics, though it grows well in the tropics too, and grows faster than any other plant on earth in the temperate and cooler climates; and
  - (d) Yields a substance that relieves the suffering of many ill people without life-threatening side effects;
- (2) Federal and corporate misinformation campaigns that economically benefit small groups of people have suppressed the information regarding the benefits of cannabis hemp and that:
  - (a) George Washington grew cannabis for more than thirty years and, while he was president, said, "the artificial preparation of hemp is really a curiosity," and told his secretary of the treasury, Alexander Hamilton, that he was, "suggesting the policy of encouraging the growth of hemp";
  - (b) Thomas Jefferson invented a device to process cannabis, and cannabis fiber was used for most clothing and paper production until the invention of the cotton gin; and
  - (c) Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania, who spoke at the United States constitutional convention in 1787 more than any other delegate, and of whom James Madison said, "the style and finish of the Constitution properly belongs to the pen of Gouverneur Morris," wrote a paper he sent to Thomas Jefferson called, Notes Respecting Tobacco that compared cannabis and tobacco, and concluded that cannabis "is to be preferred";

(3) Despite misinformation concocted to justify cannabis prohibition, the courts of Alaska, Hawaii, and Michigan have noted presidential commission findings, scientific studies, and learned treatises which:

(a) Characterize cannabis as a relatively nonaddictive and comparatively harmless euphoriant used and cultivated for more than ten thousand years without a single recorded lethal overdose;

(b) Demonstrate that moderate cannabis intoxication causes very little impairment of psychomotor functions; reveal no significant physical, biochemical, or mental abnormalities attributable solely to cannabis use; and that long-term, heavy cannabis users do not deviate significantly from their social peers in terms of mental function;

(c) Disprove the "stepping stone" or "gateway drug" argument that cannabis use leads to other drugs; rather, that lies taught about cannabis, once discovered, destroy the credibility of valid educational messages about moderate and responsible use and valid warnings against other truly dangerous drugs;

(d) Indicate that cannabis users are less likely to commit violent acts than alcohol users, refute the argument that cannabis causes criminal behavior, and suggest that most users avoid aggressive behavior, even in the face of provocation; and

(e) Declare that cannabis use does not constitute a public health problem of any significant dimension, and finds no rational basis for treating cannabis as more dangerous than alcohol;

(4) Cannabis does not cause the social ills that its prohibition was intended to guard against; rather, that most of the social ills attributed to cannabis result from its unreasonable prohibition which:

(a) Provides incentives to traffic in marijuana instead of limiting its prevalence, since almost all cannabis users evade the prohibition, even though drastically expanding public safety budgets have reduced funding for other vital services such as education;

(b) Fosters a black market that exploits children, provides an economic subsidy for gangs, and sells cannabis of questionable purity and uncertain potency;

(c) Generates enormous, untaxed, illicit profits that debase our economy and corrupt our justice system; and

(d) Wastes police resources, clogs our courts, and drains the public budget to no good effect;

(5) Alcohol prohibition caused many of the same social ills before being replaced by regulatory laws which, ever since, have granted alcohol users the privilege of buying alcohol from state licensees, imposed strict penalties protecting children, delivered alcohol of sure potency, and generated substantial public revenues;

(6) Cannabis prohibition is a sumptuary law of a nature repugnant to our Constitution's framers, and which is so unreasonable and against liberty as to:

(a) Arbitrarily violate the rights of cannabis users to be secure against unreasonable search and seizure as guaranteed to them by the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution;

(b) Unreasonably impose felony burdens on the cannabis users while the state grants special privileges to alcohol users, which violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution;

(c) Unnecessarily proscribe consumption of an "herb bearing seed" given to humanity in Genesis 1:29, thereby violating their unqualified religious rights under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and their natural rights under the Ninth Amendment to the United States Constitution;

(d) Violate the individual's right to privacy and numerous other natural and constitutional rights reserved to the people under the Ninth Amendment to the United States Constitution; and

(e) Violate the state's right to regulate and tax an intoxicant market as reserved to states under the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, thereby abdicating control to illicit markets; and

(7) The constitutional ends of justice, order, and the perpetuation of liberty; the governmental purposes of preserving the peace, safety, and happiness of the people; and the vitality of the United States Constitution demand the replacement of a costly, self-defeating prohibition with regulatory laws controlling cannabis cultivation, potency, sale, and use; defining and prohibiting cannabis abuse; protecting children with a comprehensive drug education program and strict penalties for the sale or provision of cannabis to minors; funding a state drug abuse treatment program; and raising substantial revenue for public use.

{+ NEW SECTION. +} Sec. 21. In civil cases, a rebuttable presumption of negligence shall arise upon clear and convincing evidence that a person is found to be intoxicated at the time of an accident and if the person's actions materially contributed to the cause of injury.

{+ NEW SECTION. +} Sec. 22. Any individual of at least twenty-one years of age may cultivate up to thirteen cannabis plants for personal use without license or fee.

{+ NEW SECTION. +} Sec. 23. Information on applicants, licensees, and purchasers under this chapter shall not be disclosed except upon the person's request.
